Tele MANAS Helpline

Tele MANAS (Tele Mental Health Assistance and Networking Across States)
(14416/ 1800-89-14416)

Under the National Mental Health Program, the centrally sponsored scheme Tele MANAS is being implemented in the state of Maharashtra from October 2022. Under the Tele MANAS Program, free 24×7 integrated and comprehensive mental health services are provided through the helpline number 14416. This includes treatment and counselling by experts for various mental problems. The information provided by you after calling the Tele MANAS helpline remains completely confidential, so students, parents and teachers should feel free to call the helpline number and tell them about their problems and doubts and get guidance on it. Tell others to take help from this facility as well.

Manodarpan

The Manodarpan Helpline (8448440632) is a free telephone service that has been made available since July 2020. It is provided by the Ministry of Education through the Manodarpan Cell at the National Council of Educational Research and Training (NCERT) to offer psychological guidance and support to students, parents and teachers. This service is available every day of the week from 8:00 AM to 8:00 PM. Students, parents and teachers can call this helpline to receive the necessary guidance and counseling.

This textbook aligns with the curriculum and syllabus developed by the State Council of Educational Research and Training (SCERT), Maharashtra, Pune-30. This book has been verified and approved by SCERT, Maharashtra, Pune. The Coordination Committee, established under Government Resolution by GR No. Abhyas - 2116/(Pra.Kra.43/16) SD - 4 dated April 25, 2016, approved this textbook in its meeting held on March 11, 2026 for use from academic year 2026-27 onwards.

PLEDGE

India is my country. All Indians are my brothers and sisters.

I love my country, and I am proud of its rich and varied heritage. I shall always strive to be worthy of it.

I shall give my parents, teachers and all elders respect, and treat everyone with courtesy.

To my country and my people,
I pledge my devotion. In their well-being and prosperity alone lies my happiness.

Preface

Dear Children,

It's a great pleasure to place this textbook English Balbharati for Grade Two in your hands.

Last year, you learned the alphabet sounds, words and simple sentences. You had fun with songs, stories, picture stories, activities and language games. You cultivated the habit of reading by using simple and easy to understand sentences. You also developed proper pattern of writing along with mastering phonetic awareness with proper intonation.

This year, you will read and write longer sentences, enjoy short stories and poems, learn new rhymes and try many exciting activities. You will find interesting stories, beautiful poems, short conversations, language games, riddles, puzzles and small writing tasks. These activities will help you learn new words and use English confidently while speaking, reading and writing. Each part of this book is designed to make learning English joyful, meaningful and useful in daily life. The colourful illustrations in this book will help you understand the lessons better and make reading more enjoyable. Each picture has been carefully chosen to match the story or poem, that will spark your imagination and make learning fun and engaging.

By the end of Grade Two, you will be able to read, create and write songs, poems, stories and short conversations and share them with your friends or family members. You will learn to find new words and their meanings in the dictionary. And the most exciting part is that you will have fun reading, writing and using your imagination to play, create and explore.

Dear children, let us make this year full of happy and joyful learning. Read the stories with joy, sing the poems aloud and play the language games with your friends. Every activity will help you learn English better and make you more confident. Each page of this book is a small step towards learning and creativity. Be curious, ask questions and try to use English in your daily life. Learn with joy, share your learning with others and enjoy your journey of growing through English!

Wish you all the best!

Grade Two children are expected to attain the outlined learning outcomes by year-end. Relevant content on various pages, not just those specified, can contribute to achieving these outcomes.

Instructions for Teachers and Parents

We have introduced English language in Grade One with clear, specific and effective strategies. Those strategies were aimed to help the learners to develop language, creativity and social skills through different language components. In Grade Two, we have provided different play-based and enquiry-based activities to enhance the cognitive process of language acquisition.

As the textbook has been designed as per the SCF-FS 2024, prepared by SCERT, Maharashtra, Pune, there are well defined learning outcomes. Thus it is observed that the activities provided are well aligned with the learning outcomes and the expected competencies are achieved through them. It is notable that the activities provided are more creative and communicative and they also help in developing social skills. More stress is given on developing critical skills.

Here are some guidelines for parents and teachers to explore the topics in the textbook with more fun and in an engaging way. To follow these guidelines, parents and teachers are expected to devise their own strategies to deal with the topics.

Phonological awareness

- Help them to separate sound of syllables from the words.
- Show them how to break down sounds of vowels and consonants from the syllabic sounds.
- Provide them ample opportunities to listen and practise words and its usage in a daily conversation.

Poems

- Sing the poems / songs with rhythm and actions.
- Ask children to replace few words to extend or create a new poem.

Stories

- Use props while enacting the story.
- Encourage children to use their imagination and narrate their own stories with simple plots and characters.
- Provide access to the children to read books of their choice.

Conversation / Picture talk

- Provide real-life situations to develop speaking skills.
- Give ample practice of conversation.
- Help them read non-fictional content aloud and discuss about it.
- Provide word bank and encourage conversation.

Games / puzzles / riddles

- Reinforce vocabulary through games, puzzles and riddles.
- Design more games/puzzles/riddles to give ample practice.
- Help them develop 4-5 sentences about the games and write them down.

Recipes / Art / Craft activities

- Give hands-on experience while doing recipe, art and craft activities.
- Inculcate good healthy eating habits through talks and discussion.
- Ask children to work in a group to develop social skills.
- Help them write the procedure of a recipe, art or craft in 4-5 sentences.

Teaching book handling and inculcating reading habits

- Introduce different types of books available in the library.
- Show them how to turn pages gently.
- Guide them on how to repair and fix books.

Reading

- Develop reading habit.
- Help to improve reading by mastering phonetic awareness and proper intonation.
- Encourage them for independent reading of passages, stories, poems, conversations etc.

Writing

- Make sure that listening and speaking skills are developed before introducing writing skill.
- Ensure that children listen attentively before taking dictation.
- Develop proper pattern of writing.
- Encourage them to write short sentences and paragraphs.
- Ensure that each L.O. is focussed and ample practice is given to the children.

Note : Use sign language and other pedagogical strategies for Children With Special Needs (CWSN) to communicate the content and acknowledge their responses.

1.1

Holidays are Over

1. Listen and sing.

Holidays are over,
But I'm not at all sad.
Would you like to know,
What makes me so glad?

So everything is new,
And that is really fine.
Yet, what's old and good as gold,
Are the good old friends of mine!

New shoes, new bag,
My uniform is new.
New books, new class,
A new class teacher too!

2. Read and write.

Do you know?

Rabbits can hop very fast. They have strong hind legs to hop and leap with a great speed.

1. Listen, repeat and read.

Finally the day came! Rinky, the rabbit had to go to school. But Rinky was not willing to go to school because her ears were too long. They were not short like other animals.

In the school, everyone introduced themselves. When it was Rinky's turn, she was very uneasy about her long ears. Though many saw her long ears, no one said anything. Feeling pleased, she introduced herself and sat down.

At playtime, a little squirrel came close to her and said, "Hello, Rinky! Would you like to come and play with us?" Rinky was surprised and happy. She enjoyed playing with them. She had a lovely time!

Now, Rinky likes to go to school.

Cleanliness is Next to Godliness

Do you know?

How to keep your surroundings clean?

1. Listen, read and speak.

Mother : Vinit, open the door.

Vinit : Yes, Aai. (Vinit opens the door.)

Mother : What is this Vinit? Your room is untidy.

Vinit : Sorry, Aai. I am working on a school project, so the room is untidy.

Mother : It's okay. But what about the clothes spread everywhere in the room?

Vinit : Sorry, Aai. I will do it later.

Mother : Do your daily chores on time.

Vinit : Okay, Aai. I will do it now. Will you please help me?

Mother : Sure, come on. Let's do it.

2. Write a few sentences on how to keep your house clean.

For the Teacher :

- Help the children to develop conversation, practise and write it.
e.g. vegetable seller - customer, bus conductor - passenger, etc.

Do you know?

Roads also have names. Name the road that leads you home.

1. Listen, repeat and read.

One afternoon, Emperor Akbar and his courtiers went to visit a forest. By the time, they decided to return to the palace, it was dark.

Somehow, they reached a crossroad. None of them knew which way to go. A young man was coming along the path. Akbar asked him, “What is your name, young man? Which of these roads go to Agra?”

The young man replied, “My name is Mahesh Das. None of these roads go to Agra. Roads do not go anywhere. People use the roads to go to places. You can take the middle road to go to Agra.”

Akbar laughed and said, “Very clever of you, Mahesh Das! I am Emperor Akbar. Take my ring as a gift. Come to my court and meet me. Show this ring to the guards. They will let you in.”

This is how Akbar met his wise minister - Birbal for the first time.

2. Read aloud.

Do you know?

The seven colours of a rainbow.

1. Listen and read.

It was a drizzly day. The sun got caught in the rain without an umbrella or a raincoat.

Mother Nature gently tucked the sun into bed. Sister Terra brewed a warm kadha with ginger, honey, and tulsi for him. This soothed his aching throat.

Soon he was shivering with cold. He coughed and sneezed, causing thunder and lightning. His face turned red.

After a good rest, the sun felt better. Sister Terra handed him a colourful handkerchief.

She wondered, “Why is the sun wearing a colourful handkerchief today?” Her face lit up with joy. She was happy to see the sun shining and cheerful again.

The sun ran out with his colourful handkerchief, painting a beautiful rainbow across the sky.

The little girl gazed out of the window at the rainbow.

One day some sailors set out to sea with their pet dog. When they were far out at sea, a terrible storm overturned their ship. All fell into the sea. The sailors swam to the shore. The dog struggled and cried for help. Suddenly a big fish appeared and picked him up.

Knowing that no one lived on that island, the big fish said, “Well, well, so you are a prince! Now you can be a king!”. The dog asked, “How can I be a king?”

They soon reached an island. The big fish asked the dog, “Do you know about this island?”

The dog boasted, “Yes, I do. In fact, the king of this island is my best friend. Do you know that I am actually a prince?”

The big fish started swimming away, and replied, “As you are the only one on this island, you will surely be the king!”

Moral : Those who lie and boast may end up in trouble.

Jalgaon Girl Gets National Bravery Award for Saving Mother from Dying!

Jalgaon, 25th January, 2022.

A student of Grade One from Jalgaon, Shivangi Gulbakshi Prasad Kale has been awarded the 'Pradhanmantri Rashtriya Bal Puraskar' for bravery this year.

Shivangi was in Senior K.G. when she saved her mother and younger sister Ishanvi from being electrocuted. On 5th January, 2021 Shivangi's mother Gulbakshi Kale was heating water for a bath. She was using an iron rod electric heater. As she picked up the steel bucket in a hurry, she got stuck to the bucket. Her body started shaking. Ishanvi started running towards her mother. At once Shivangi pulled her sister back. She asked her not to touch their mother.

Shivangi brought a plastic stool. She stood on it and turned off the switch. Everything happened in a matter of seconds. Gulbakshi did not suffer any major injuries. Shivangi's presence of mind saved her mother and her little sister.

She was asked, how she knew to handle such situations. She replied "At school, we were taught safety measures. Plastic, rubber or wooden objects are used to save us from electric shock. We must also not touch the person who has got the electric shock."

A Visit to Tarkarli

1. Listen and read.

Dear Grandma,

How are you? All are good here. I would like to tell you about my school trip to Tarkarli last week.

Tarkarli has fascinating backwaters, beautiful white sand beaches and ancient temples. We visited the Sindhudurg fort nearby. Tarkarli has water sports like scuba diving, surfing, jet skiing, parasailing and many more. We went to Devbag beach for dolphin spotting. It was amazing to see them jumping in and out of the water.

We ate some yummy sea food there. We had a great time. I am sending you a few pictures. You will like them.

Give my regards to Grandpa. Hoping to meet you soon.

The Mango Tree and the Shrubs

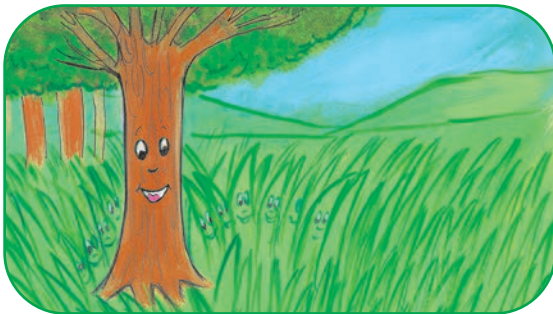

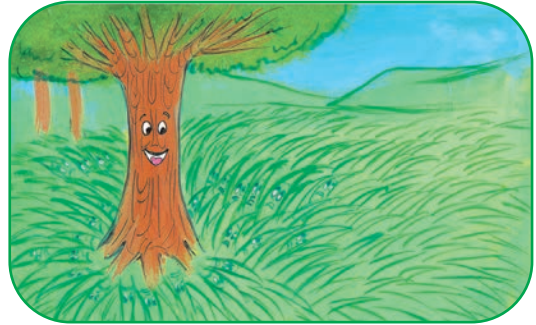

Do you know?

The difference between trees and shrubs.

1. Listen and read.

Once, there was a proud mango tree in the forest. Many shrubs grew around it. Whenever a strong wind blew or it rained heavily the tall mango tree stood upright, while the shrubs bowed down low.

“Look at you! Weak little shrubs. You are almost down,” the mango tree teased the shrubs.

One day, there was a storm in the forest. As usual, the mango tree didn't bow down. The storm grew stronger. The mango tree could not bear it and it fell down.

When everything was calm, the shrubs stood up straight. The shrubs said, “Oh dear mango tree! Why couldn't you be humble?”

Our national festivals.

1. Read and discuss.

As a part of Republic Day Celebrations, Mrs. Naik had assigned a project to the class. She had made groups of students. Each group had to make a collage of different states and present it in the class.

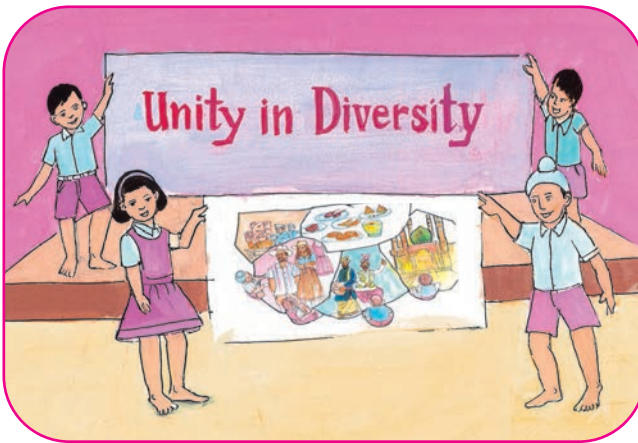

Akash, Maria, Gurpreet and Zaid were in the same group. They were good friends. They were happy to be together and decided to work as a team. They started working hard to make their project the best among all.

Akash collected pictures of food items from Uttar Pradesh. Maria brought pictures of clothes worn by people of Goa. Gurpreet brought pictures of festivals celebrated in Punjab. Zaid brought pictures of places of worship in Maharashtra.

All four of them worked together to make a beautiful collage.

The whole class understood that we Indians speak different languages. We also have different food habits, festivals, costumes and cultures. But we all are Indians! We all are One!

They named their project - Unity in Diversity. All the other groups also worked hard on their projects. And you know what! Akash, Maria, Gurpreet and Zaid's group won the first prize. Mrs. Naik congratulated them.

Pencil Magic

Do you know?

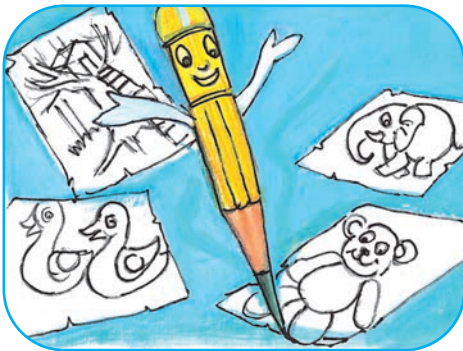

Any magic trick.

1. Read and sing.

I like a yellow pencil,
A shiny yellow pencil.
With a rub-away eraser
And a point all sharply black.

If I want my own spaceship
Or a secret house on a treetop.
Or a friendly bear to play with,
Or eleven ducks in a pond.

I can draw all kinds of pictures
Of animals, things and people.
With a shiny yellow pencil.
There isn't a thing I lack!

I've only to use my pencil
And there they are on the paper.
Oh, a shiny yellow pencil.
Is a magical fairy wand!

(Mahi comes to her teacher with a torn book and shows it to her.)

Mahi : Teacher, my favourite book is torn. What should I do?

Teacher : Oh! Don't worry, we can fix it. Let's see where it's torn.

Mahi : It's here, on this page. The whole corner is ripped off.

Teacher : Ok dear, first we'll need a sticking tape and some glue. Do you know where we keep the tape?

Mahi : Yes, it's in the drawer! I'll get it.

Teacher : Great! Now let's start carefully by matching the torn edges. Can you help me to line them up?

Mahi : Like this, teacher?

Teacher : Yes, just like that. Now I'll place this piece of sticking tape over the torn page to hold it together. Make sure there are no folds.

Mahi : Okay, it's smooth now. What's next?

Teacher : Now we'll press it gently to make sure the tape sticks well. We can also put a little glue on the spine if the book is coming apart.

Mahi : Will it be as good as new?

Teacher : It might not be perfect but it will be strong enough. Books need care just like everything else.

Mahi : Thank you, teacher. I'm glad we fixed the book together.

Teacher : You're welcome! Be always gentle with your books, so that they last for a long time.

How to count?

1. Listen, repeat and read.

One day Abu Ali went to the market and bought nine donkeys. He rode home on one of them. The rest of the donkeys followed behind.

Just then Abu Ali's friend Musa saw Abu Ali. Musa asked, "Why are you so upset Abu Ali?"

In a very sad voice Abu Ali requested, "Musa, please help me to count my donkeys. I bought nine donkeys from the market. Now I have only eight."

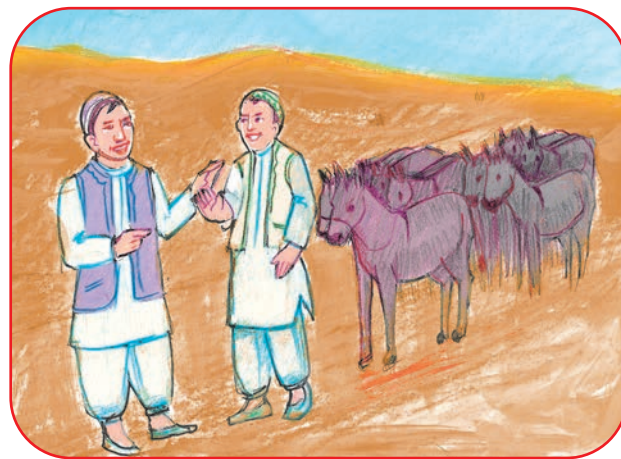

"Well, I can see nine donkeys," laughed Musa. "How can you see nine donkeys?" asked Abu Ali.

After a while, Abu Ali turned around to count them. "One, two, three, four, five, six, seven, eight. Oh! Where is the ninth donkey?" Abu Ali screamed. He counted again and again. Every time he could count only eight donkeys.

“I can see the donkey you are sitting on and I see eight donkeys behind you,” said Musa. “Of course!”, cried Abu Ali. “How silly of me! Thank you, Musa.” Abu Ali rode happily back home.

How to keep your house clean or how do you keep your house clean?

1. Read and learn.

Every year all the schools in Maharashtra participate in a 'Clean-up Contest'. The school that keeps its building and garden the cleanest wins a trophy and a medal.

Chinmay, Sakshi and their friends wanted their school to win the contest. They made a plan and started cleaning. They picked up litter from the playground and cleaned classrooms. They encouraged other students too. They enjoyed working together. Everyone participated in the 'Clean-up Contest'.

When the judges visited the school, they were impressed by seeing the cleanliness of the school. After a week, the result was declared. Their school had won the first prize! Chinmay, Sakshi and their friends were thrilled to win the contest.

The Principal asked Chinmay and Sakshi to receive the trophy and the medal. All the students clapped and cheered as the trophy was being given.

The story of 'The Greedy Dog'.

1. Look at the picture and read the story.

They would all collect the food together and then divide it equally among themselves.

“Wow! A great lunch for me. I won't share it with anyone,” he thought.

Once there lived a flock of birds in a jungle. They used to go in different directions in search of food. If any of them found food, they would inform the others.

One day, one of them went to a village in search of food. He found grains on the road which had fallen from a bullock cart.

He flew back to the jungle. “I saw grains on the road, but there are many bullock carts on the road. They are dangerous. So nobody should go there,” said the greedy bird. The other birds agreed.

The next day the bird flew to the village. ‘I will have a great lunch today,’ the bird thought happily.

He pecked at the grains on the road. His stomach filled soon, but he didn’t stop eating.

Suddenly, a bullock cart passed by the bird. He got frightened. In a hurry to escape, he hit against the wheel and got injured.

‘It was my greed that gave me pain,’ realised the greedy bird.

Once upon a time, in Sonpur there lived a giant called Gobasur. He was a very sweet and gentle giant but the people of Sonpur disliked him. He was so huge, that he unknowingly trampled gardens and farms as he walked around.

One day, Gobasur saw some children playing by the stream. He wanted to play with them but the children playing by the stream said, “Go away, you horrible giant!” Gobasur felt very upset. He ran towards the mountain and started crying.

As Gobasur was a giant, his tears were like buckets of water that rained down on the land. At the same time, a forest fire had broken out. The villagers were worried. They were wondering how to douse off the forest fire. Before the fire could spread, it was put out by Gobasur’s tears.

The villagers ran to see where the water was suddenly coming from. There, they saw giant Gobasur shedding huge tears. The villagers cheered Gobasur. He stopped crying and rushed down to meet everyone.

Now, the whole village became good friends with Gobasur. Everyone was ready to talk to him and play with him.
